A lamentable outbreak of savagery among the natives of the Solomon group, resulting in the murder of Donald Guy, a trader of New Zea land is reported from Sydney says the New Zealand Herald, He was butchered and offered as a human sacrifice as part of the ceremony connected with the launching of a new war cance. This is one of those lap-es so common among savage peoples who are being gradually taught to abandon their bloodthirsty customs. The victims on such oc casions as the above are generally slaves, for a traffic in human beings prevails among the Islands. The Solomon tribes as a rule treat their slaves very well, and often they become as a part of the free popula tion; but then there always exists the grave contingency that when a head is wanted to satisfy the offended bonor of a neighboring chief, or a life is required to be sacrificed on the completion of a tambu house or the launching of a new war canoe, the victim is never a free born citizen. The unfortunate man may have been brought up among the tribe from childhood and have been a slave only in name, but no compassion will save him from his doom. The only consideration extended to him is that he gets no warning of his fate, but is tomshawked or clubbed unexpectedly. The tambu house is a sacred building from which the women are excluded, and in which the chief's war canoe is kept. When one of these houses is completed, or as in the present instance when a canoe is ready for launching, the event is, or was always in former days, commemorated by a human sacrifice, and an arm or a leg bung over the door. Attached to the cauce is a small misshapen wooden figure, which is the tutelar diety that sees the hidden rock and gives warning of the approaching foe. This watchful little diety is often given a double head so that he may keep a look out astern as well as ahead. To satisfy a god such as this the unfortunate trader has been sacrificed.

HAWAII BOBS UP.

But Is Speedily Suppressed by the Democratic Senators.

Washington, May 29.-After an amendment to the Hawaiian resolution by Vest declaring in favor of letting the Sandwich islanders choose their own form of Government had been laid on the table the Tariff bill was taken up.

Peffer made a motion to lay aside the tariff and resume the consideration of Hawaiian affairs. His motion was defeated, the Republicars and Populists voting in the affirmative.

D. M. Crowley is no longer on the Holomua staff. He will be able to devote his whole time to the production of his new play.
